The Freshwater Bay Golf Club is located in beautiful part of the Isle of Wight. Set on the downlands overlooking the English Channel, this par 69 seaside links-style course is 5,725 yards long and provides a challenge for golfers of all abilities. The site, owned by the National Trust, is a SSSI and a European Special Area of Conservation, home to many rare and endangered species of flora and fauna. Visitors and societies are always made most welcome. The course is blessed with ancient monuments which provide a special kind of hazard to the visiting golfer - the seventh fairway threads itself through two bronze age burial mounds hence the name Tumuli.

Enjoy your game on Freshwater Bay Golf Course and delight in the views of Tennyson Down (the inspiration of much of Lord Tennyson's poetry), of Freshwater Bay, of the Solent and Yarmouth and of the English Channel.

Shanklin & Sandown Golf Club

Shanklin & Sandown is ranked 7th in Hampshire by the the Top 100 Golf Courses of the World and have also been rated as one of the Britain's best 100 Courses under £50 (National Club Golfer - February 2012).

The course is maintained to a very high standard and the greens are regularly hand mowed, providing an excellent putting surface. There are fantastic views of the surrounding downs at every turn, providing a truly beautiful aesthetic backdrop to the course. The free draining heathland soil ensures it is playable throughout the year providing, without doubt, an outstanding place to play golf in any season.
